Feelings

1A(30)James's feeling

This survey was not my first time to conduct a survey .I did a Tsim Sha Tsui Survey when I was Studying in primary six. I think it was difficult to conduct the survey because I was scared when I was talking to the tourist .And I felt nervous when I started the first questionnaire because I was afraid that I will reject by the tourists in the first questionnaire. I had some problems when I talked with the tourist. But my partner is good at English, so that I can clam down quickly, and start to interview more other tourists. At last, we can interview 21 tourists and we are happy about it.

1A(24) Samuel Chan's feeling

I think it is difficult to conduct the survey. I felt very excited when I started the first questionnaire. There were some problems when I was taking with the tourists. Like I forgot the word how to spoke . My partner will help me at the first time. He helped to talk to the tourists. I do not know how many tourists I had interview. I learn more about English. This is a good experience.

1A(26)Marcus Chau's feeling

I was second time to conduct a survey. I thought this survey had some difficult but I can solve with group members. I felt excited when I started the first questionnaire. I have some

Introduction
Ha ha ... Do you know what do we laughing at ? We did a interview in Tsim Sha Tsui which is a survey called " Tsim Sha Tsui Survey " on 17th March , 2014 afterwe have a lunch. We have a good mood to do the survey. We followed the teachers (Miss Li and Miss Leung) to the Peninsula Hotel and YMCA in Hong Kong which located at Tsim Sha Tsui. When we Could do the survey. We interview a lot of tourists from other countries immediately. We finished it at 3:15 pm on that day.
In the report, ther ara six parts. They are the introduction,photos,findings,recommecdations, reflections and job allocation.
