

Health Management and Social Care (HMSC)

— Learn for the Professions Ahead

Nursing Programme

HMSC developed my positive attitude towards the ever-changing life events. Being a nurse, we should understand the needs of and the care for people at various stages of life. Through the learning of this subject, I have recognized the roles of formal and informal caregivers in promoting health and well-being.

(Chan Suet Man, Stephanie, Nursing Programme of Hong Kong Sanatorium & Hospital)

Medicine

e.g. public health, medicine, health science, Chinese medicine

Nursing

e.g. nursing

Social Sciences

e.g. social work, sociology, psychology

Education

e.g. child education, physical education, sports science

Social Work Programme

HMSC helped build my knowledge on the social issues in Hong Kong as well as aroused my awareness of and developed my empathy for the vulnerable groups in our society. I found that most of the fundamental knowledge in social work has been taught in HMSC. The concepts and knowledge acquired have prepared me for studying the social work programme in university.

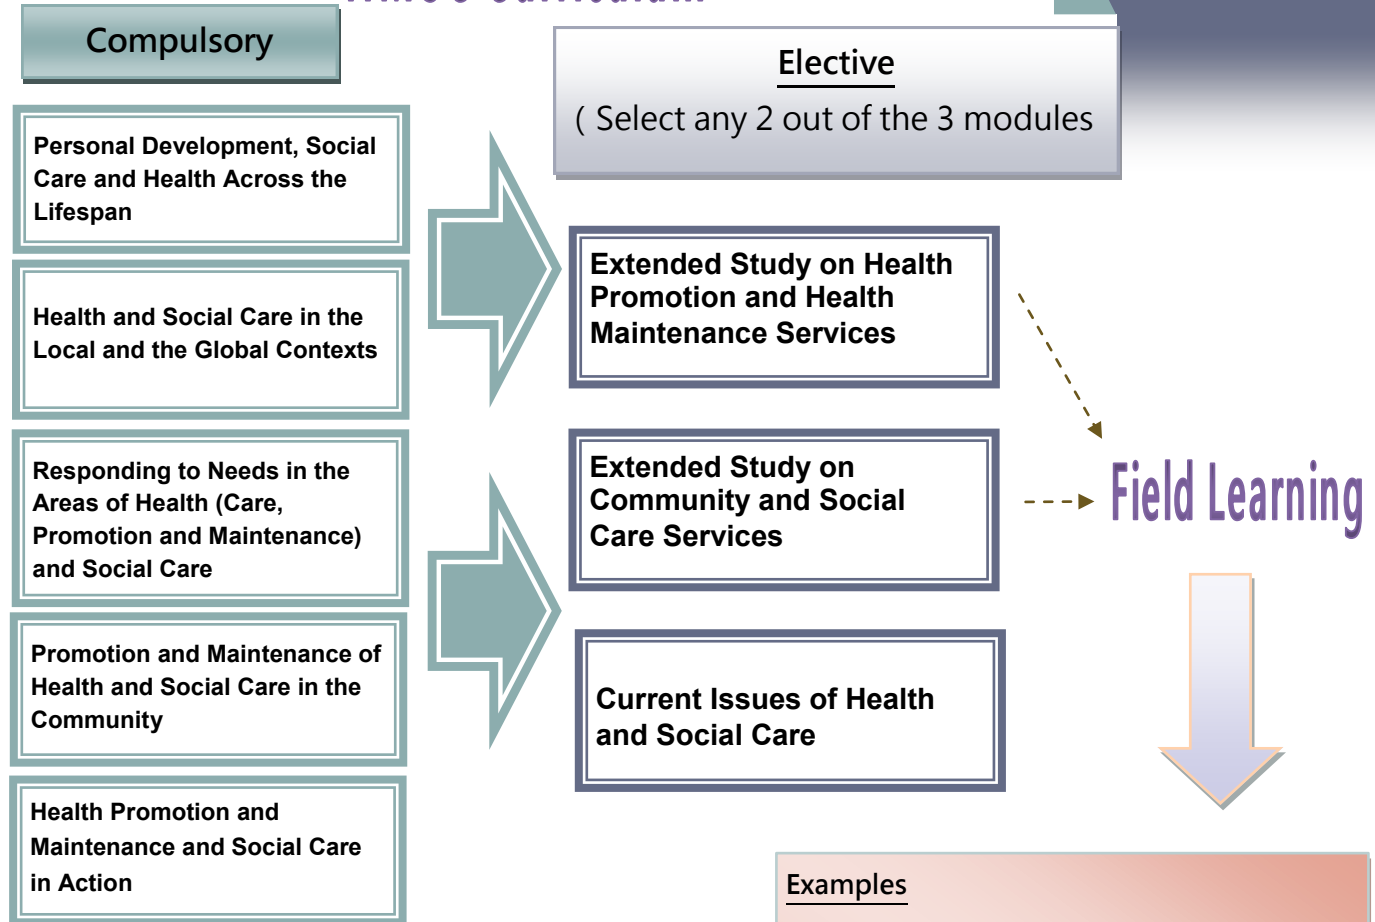

(Lau Ching Ki, Social Work Programme of The Hong Kong Polytechnic University)

The learning of HMSC has broadened my horizons. The knowledge about the social welfare and healthcare issues benefited me in my admission interviews of the social work programmes of universities. The topics in HMSC have provided a solid foundation for my study of some subjects such as Psychology, Social Welfare in Hong Kong.

(Cheng Siu Yu, Social Work Programme of The Hong Kong Polytechnic University)
