

PAPER CUTOUT

Shared wisdom from books helps us build connections and strengthen friendships. As the French novelist and playwright Honoré de Balzac once said, “Reading brings us unknown friends.” Reading unites us, creates bonds of respect, and helps us grow together on our inspiring journey with books.

STEPS:

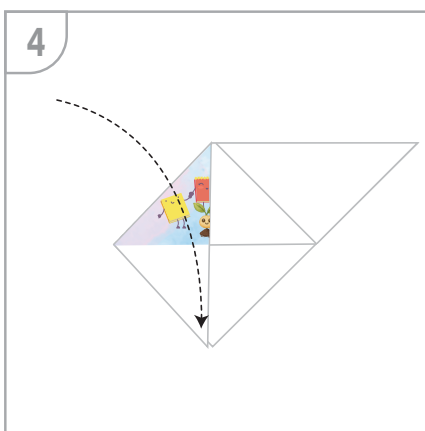

Cut the square piece of paper.

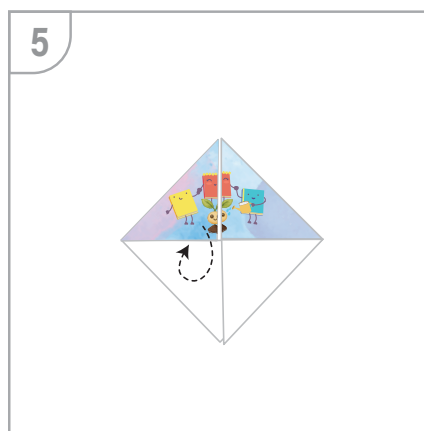

Fold in half to make a triangle.

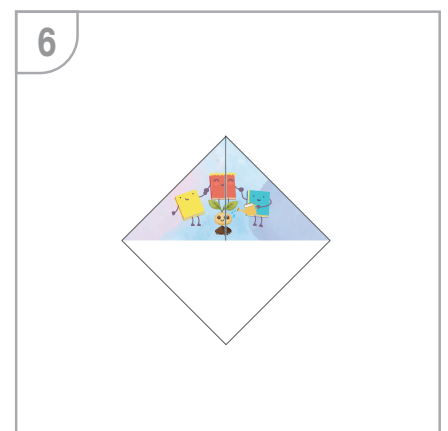

Fold the bottom corner up to touch the top edge.

Fold the top corners down to the bottom point.

Fold both bottom corners inwards and hide them behind the triangles.

Yay! Your bookmark is now ready.

INSTRUCTIONS

Reading helps us develop a growth mindset and opens the door to new worlds of learning. As the American author Jim Rohn once said, “Reading is essential for those who seek to rise above the ordinary.” With dedication and hard work, our talents can grow, and through reading we can become independent, lifelong learners.
