Multiple roles of teachers

Teachers often perform multiple roles in learning and teaching. The following is a demonstration and an analysis of the multiple roles performed by teachers (including humanities subjects) as seen in the design for learning and teaching of the topic of "Poverty Issue in Hong Kong" by Mr Hui Shing Yan of Christian & Missionary Alliance Sun Kei Secondary School.

Poverty Issue in Hong Kong

Learning objectives

• Knowledge:

- To understand the poverty issue and the situation in Hong Kong
- To know alleviation measures and other ways to tackle poverty in Hong Kong
- To understand different views of different stakeholders on the poverty issue

• Skills:

- To compare and contrast the pros and cons of different solutions, and their feasibility
- To develop the abilities of thinking from multiple perspectives, critical thinking, and creativity
- To develop and express positions

• Values:

- To cultivate respect, care, fairness and justice

Teacher's Roles:

- Designs the learning and teaching of "Poverty Issue in Hong Kong"
- Designs cross-unit learning activities to enable students to learn topic-related concepts more holistically
- Selects topics from daily life issues surrounding students to increase students' motivation to participate in classroom activities
- Selects topics appropriate to students' prior knowledge or experience to enhance their engagement
- designs the learning and teaching process from elementary to advanced levels and provides scaffolds and timely and appropriate feedback to deepen learning

&lt;sup>1</sup> This is a topic of a junior secondary school-based integrated curriculum in the PSHE KLA.

Learning &teaching design	Content	Learning & teaching resources	Teacher's Roles:  • With personal Arousing	The teacher shares his	Teacher's	experience as the entry point in the lesson, motivation	childhood experience of	childhood	shares his childhood using pocket money as an	photos /	experience in using example to arouse		pocket money to arouse students' students' interest		interest (Other suggestions: Teachers	\	Guides students to may introduce the habit of		think initially about the using pocket money of the		issue of poor and rich by comparing their secondary students nowadays,		ways of using pocket and guide students to		money with the teacher discuss what constitutes a reasonable amount of pocket money per day)
Foundation	Teacher explains	School-based knowledge	<ul> <li>poverty as defined</li> </ul>	supplementary	Teacher's Roles: internationally	materials (1)	Provides knowledge     and concepts that allows <ul> <li>poverty as defined in</li> </ul>		and concepts that allow students to have a basic Hong Kong		understanding of the
	• the poverty issue and the		topic being explored situation in Hong Kong		and lay the foundation for later discussions Group	In groups of four,	Worksheet for discussion	students discuss	group	Teacher's Roles:
(1)	solutions to the poverty	discussion	<ul> <li>Provides opportunities fo</li> </ul>
, ,	issue in Hong Kong		students to exchange Before starting the		views and engage in peer learning discussion, teacher		Encourages students to suggests some possible	1	propose supported approaches to the		opinions solutions, e.g. legislation,		Provides scaffolds for economic support from		learning to improve the quality of discussions and the Government,		demonstrates learning training, support from		expectations charity organisations		Reminds students to Two solutions should be	•	respect different opinions and engage in rational proposed and explained		discussion by each group		Observes group discussions and provide

Learning &teaching design	Contents	Learning & teaching resources	Teacher's Roles:  • Facilitates students to Group report (text) and class discussion	<ul> <li>Each group writes         down the key points         of the discussion         results on the         blackboard and makes         a brief report</li> <li>Students ask         questions to one         another, express their         views and give         feedback to their peers</li> <li>The teacher debriefs         and provides         encouragement for the         recommendations</li> </ul>		<ul> <li>Facilitates students to ask questions, express views and give feedback</li> <li>Through asking students questions and explanations, clarifies misunderstandings, highlights key points and guides students to reflect on related issues</li> <li>Through debriefing, helps students organise and summarise discussion results, and prepare for deep learning</li> <li>Provides constructive</li> </ul>
Foundation knowledge	given by students  The teacher  explains the meaning	School-based supplementary	and encouraging feedback on students' discussions and	of social justice	materials (2) interpretation of values	,		Teacher's Roles:  • Based on the learning from the previous lesson, provides knowledge and concepts e and prepare for deep learning

Learning &teaching design	Contents	Learning & teaching resources
Foundation knowledge and interpretation of values (cont'd)	offers summary and explanations with reference to the results of students' group discussion (1)
Group discussion (2)	<ul> <li>Students integrate         what they have         learned in the lesson,         revisit the solutions         proposed in Group         Discussion(1), and         conduct reasonable         and balanced         discussions, then         revise the solutions</li> <li>The teacher</li> </ul>	Poster paper, coloured pens <ul> <li>encourages students         to conduct reviews         and make revisions         from different         perspectives (social         justice, different         standards of resource         allocation, etc.)</li> <li>Students select the         best approach by         group consent and</li> </ul> design publicity posters

Teacher's Roles

- Provides opportunities for students to
  - exchange views and engage in peer learning
  - integrate what they have learned and reflect
  - form personal positions
- Observes group discussions and provides timely support

Learning &teaching design		Contents	Learning & teaching resources Group	•	Each group posts their report		posters on the classroom (poster) and		walls and gives verbal class		reports on the ideas and discussion		content of the poster design •	Students ask one another questions, express their views and give feedback to their peers
	•	Students vote for the most popular poster
Lesson	Tea	cher
conclusion	•	debriefs and summarises the lesson
	•	stresses that there are pros and cons to the different approaches to poverty alleviation and that different social conditions		Tea	cher's Roles: and other reasons may also	1	•	Debriefs and summarises affect the feasibility and			what have bee effectiveness of the	_		learned in the solutions			topic
	•	educates students to respect		•	Stresses again the values stakeholders who advocate			related to other ways to tackle	V		learning poverty. Even if students			objectives do not agree with other stakeholders' ideas, they must understand the rationales behind them, respect and tolerate different views and think about how to reach consensus with them to create win-win situation			