(Whispering) It's not a horse! It's a deer!

SCENE 3 – Conquer your fear

(Curtain opens to reveal a warm and cosy home with festive Christmas decorations. The song We wish you a merry Christmas is playing. A family is singing a Christmas carol together.)

(ALL, singing and humming)

We wish you a merry Christmas and a happy new year!

(Dr. Lee and Mrs. Lee)

Merry Christmas, all my sweethearts!

(All children)

Merry Christmas, Daddy and mummy!

(Mrs. Lee)

Who wants to hear a story?

(All except Mrs. Lee and Dr. Lee)

(Raise hands) Me!

(Mum begins to tell a story.)

(Mrs. Lee)

It's a real story about someone called Leonardo da Vinci. He was not only a painter, but also an inventor, a draftsman, a sculptor, an architect, and an engineer. Okay, who can tell me a thing that he invented?

(Caldwell)

I know! I know! The parachute!

(Mrs. Lee)

You're all correct. He also improved the printing press! He was really a man with knowledge and skills in a number of different areas. Do you guys know why he was that knowledgeable?

(Chloe)

A man like him was born as a genius, mum!

(Dr. Lee)

Honey, genius is made, not born. Leonardo was born out of wedlock to a poor family. Though he never received any kind of formal education, he spent most of his time to watch builders and study the mechanics of their cranes; observe the way birds fly.

(Mrs. Lee)

So you guys should know that human beings can liberate their unique intelligence in search of knowledge and the truth.

One of my favourite quotes from him is: "Iron rusts from disuse, stagnant water loses its purity,

(Mrs. Lee and Dr. Lee)

and in cold weather becomes frozen; even so does inaction sap the vigors of the mind."

(They both smile to each other.)

(Chloe)

(While she is looking at the cover of a storybook) Look! Horses! I like horses, Daddy and mummy!

Where are the horses, darling?

(Chloe)

(Showing the cover of the book) Daddy, can't you see? They are on the cover!

What? They're NOT horses! They are deer!

(Chloe)

Daddy! What's wrong with you? They are horses! Everyone calls them horses.

(Cassie)

Chloe is right! Everyone calls them horses. My friend Julie and David do. My cousins Macy and Jennifer also do. And Empress Belladonna calls them horses too!

(Caldwell and Charles)

So do we!

(Mrs. Lee)

Honey, I have something important to tell you. You all know the ruler of our State, Empress Belladonna, don't you? She...she...indeed is not a good ruler.

(Charles)

Mum, why do you say so?

(Caldwell)

You never said those things before!

(Mrs. Lee)

I know. I never judge her in front of you because we think we should not gossip about people behind their back. But...she has really crossed the line! It does really matter when she swears black is white! How can she turn the deer to horses? She doesn't want anyone to be educated to violate her rules.

(Dr. Lee)

Mum is right, so now we are teaching you secretly because we know knowledge is power. We must teach the citizens before it's too late.

(Cassie)

But how? The empress will find out about it easily if we do it.

(Caldwell)

It gives me goose bumps just imagining it.

(Suddenly, some angry door knocking sounds can be heard. Someone is knocking on the door loudly and angrily.)

(All Children except Charles)

(Petrified) Daddy...

(They cuddle up to their father and mother. Charles remains very calm.)

(Charles)

They sound very angry and impatient!

(Dr. Lee)

(Tries to stop his son) Charles, yes, you're right, we'll protect our family. But kids, listen to the door knocking sounds again! It's a set of secret passwords.

(They pay attention to the knocking sounds again.)

(Dr. Lee)

They are from my students.

(Enter Stephanie, Zeno and Gigi. The children are all relieved.)

(Stephanie)

Dr. Lee, what took you so long to open the door?

(Dr. Lee)

(He has a big grin on his face.) My children. Your appearance made their hearts miss a beat.

(Gigi, Stephanie and Zeno)

Good afternoon, Dr. Lee and Mrs. Lee. And all the lovely children.

(Caldwell)

Daddy, are they your students?

(Dr. Lee)

Yes, honey. Please meet Stephanie, Zeno and Gigi.

(They greet each other.)

(Zeno)

Dr. Lee, the question you asked last time was so difficult yet fascinating. We spent two days to search for the answer. And we finally solved it.

(Dr. Lee)

So does fish ever feel thirsty?

(Zeno)

No, they don't. Unlike land mammals which have to seek endlessly for water in order to stay hydrated, fish basically live in water...

(Stephanie)

So they don't really feel that strong of an urge to drink water.

(Zeno and Stephanie smile and do a high five.)

(Dr. Lee)

Very impressive!

(Gigi)

So what are we going to learn today? I am so excited!

(Dr. Lee)

Mrs. Lee, who has an outstanding talent in History, is going to have a History lesson with you!

(Mrs. lee)

Yes, we are just learning about Leonardo da Vinci. And we have special guests today! They are ~~~ Caldwell, Charles, Cassie and Chloe!

(Caldwell, Cassie and Chloe freeze and hesitate. Caldwell steps forward a bit.)

(Caldwell)

But mum, what if the Empress find out? What if we got caught?

(Charles)

You guys are very timid! I fear nothing!

(Dr. Lee)

Children, we all fear of something. Fear is a vital response to physical and emotional danger. But don't let it keep you from doing what's going to make you great!

(Daddy approaches his kids, offering them the History book.)

(Daddy)

Children, please pursue the real truth. This city really needs you! It is dying!

(Mrs. Lee)

There are still tons of people who can't receive a proper education. You know what will happen in the future? We'll all be fooled by the Empress! There is only one thing that can change this upsetting situation --- knowledge. With the knowledge you acquire, you guys can teach other children to know the difference between the truth and the falsehood.

(Zeno, Gigi and Stepanie)

Do the right thing when you think it is right.

(Daddy)

Don't let fear become the big wall in the way of hopes and dreams. Because of fear we don't take chances that could be rewarding. You've got to confront your fear!

(Chloe)

(Evasively, refuses to take the book from Daddy) I...I am sorry. I can't. Don't force me to do it! I just can't!

(Caldwell)

Dad and mum, it's matter of life and death! Who cares about the city?

(General Sean)

(Malevolently) Excuse me! What's that? Is that a book?

(Evil soldier 1 takes the book out of Dr. Lee's hand and opens it.)

(Dr. Lee)

(General Sean)

It must be something about education. How dare you! (Points at the whole family) You! You're ALL under arrest!

(Mrs. Lee)

(scared) What? This is.....ridiculous! You can't just walk over everybody like this!

(Zeno, Gigi and Stephanie try to stop the evil soldiers from walking towards the kids. Dr. Lee and his wife hold General's legs tightly and firmly.)

(Dr. Lee)

(To the four kids) Run, it's dangerous here! Hide in anywhere safe! Look after your sisters, Caldwell and Charles. And.....and remember what your mum and I said!

SCENE 4 – We are the only hope now!

(Curtains open to an abandoned house which has been empty for quite a while because of the war. Cassie and Caldwell are teaching some children in the house.)

(Cassie)

It's a real story about someone called Renaissance Man. Once upon a time, there was a genius called Leonardo da Vinci. He was a brilliant genius who later became the leading figure of the Italian Renaissance. Born in 1452 in Italy he was not only a painter, but also an inventor, a draftsman, a sculptor, an architect, and an engineer.

(They are stunned and all listen in awe.)

(Jessica)

Wow! I was flabbergasted! That's very impressive! How can you remember this information? Where did you learn it from? Sounds like you memorize it every single day.

(Caldwell)

Yes she does! And we all do...because our parents taught us that. We learnt it from the last few lessons before they were caught...

(Cassie)

Brother...

(Tiffany)

Oh it's five already. We'd better go before the evil soldiers suspect us. You know, during the war period, everything goes crazily...

.....Because I know you're a scheming devil! These young fellows showed me this book and told me a story the other day. Then I know exactly your scheme!

A story about the ruthless tyrant Emperor Qin (Qin Shi Huang) who persecuted intellectuals in order to make his people to be loyal and obedient to him.
