Shasha: (Nervously checking delivery progress) Everyone, attention!

Deliverers: Yes!

Shasha: Remember to deliver all these gift boxes to every child today!

Deliverers: We know, Shasha.

Shasha: (Seriously) These gifts are really important! They're the wishes of all the children.....

Deliverer 1: (Interrupting her) We know already, you want to say that every gift is made of a different wish, right?

Shasha: Each gift box has a name and address on it, be sure not to send it to the wrong address, because...

Deliverer 2: (Irritated) Because each gift contains a different wish, and if we get it wrong children can't achieve their dreams? We know already.....

Shasha: Also, remember to put in the.....

Deliverer 3: The instruction manual.

Shasha: And if you don't.....

Deliverers: The children wouldn't have enough power to achieve their dreams.

Shasha: How do you already know this?

Deliverer 2: Because you've said it a hundred times already?

Shasha: Have I?

Deliverer 3: Bye Shasha! (Deliverers push a cart and goes offstage)

Shasha: (Saying goodbye) Remember to go early and return early, I'll prepare a big feast for everyone! (Walking back to the stage)
Ugh, doing work here is really stressful, especially as the person responsible for the gifts department. Even if I miss just one box, it would be really troublesome..... (Notices a gift and picks it up)
Oh no! Why..... why is there still a gift here? (Anxiously pacing around)
What do I do? (Detective Bubu and Lala enter, they hear Shasha's cries)

Bubu: Shasha, what happened? You look really stressed!

Shasha: Look! They missed a gift, this is bad!

Lala: Calm down! (Grabs the box and inspects it)
This gift belongs to Qiqi. (She opens the box, but finds that it is empty) Huh?
There's nothing inside?

Shasha: Nothing? How can that be?

Bubu: Well it could be because this child doesn't have any dreams, so.....

Shasha: That's not possible! Everybody has dreams!

Lala: We really should investigate this.

Bubu: Yeah! We haven't had a mission in ages.

Shasha: Guys, remember to complete this.....

Lala: Today. Don't worry, we got this! Let's go. (Detective Bubu and Lala excitedly leave the stage)

Shasha: Ugh, really hope the lord blesses us for this one. (Shasha worriedly leaves stage)

Scene 2: No dreams?!

Characters: Mr Wong, Qiqi, Jason, Abby, other classmates

Setting: Activity room

- Mr Wong: Everyone, the theme of this school year is “Daring to dream”! So our drama this year will also be about this theme.
- Jason: Ms Wong, can we make our own story this year?
- Mr Wong: Yes, I can even gather some materials for you all.
- Abby: (Excited) Hey, what’re your dreams? I want to be a singer!
- Jacson: (Proudly) I want to be an Olympic athlete and represent Hong Kong! Just thinking about it is so cool!
- Mr Wong: Hold on! Your dreams don’t always have to be your job in the future.
- Student 1: Mr Wong, if I want to be a millionaire when I grow up, does that also count as a dream?
- Student 2: I just want to be in “Miss Hong Kong”.
- Student 3: I wanna travel the world!
- Jason: Wow, all of your dreams are so shallow.
- Mr Wong: Jason, don’t laugh at other classmates.
- Qiqi: Mr Wong, actually…… what is a dream?
- Mr Wong: A dream is something you want to achieve and will wholeheartedly strive to do it no matter what obstacles and difficulties that you will encounter.

Song 2 Everyone has something they can do

Every-one has some-thing they can do.
Like sing-ing, or spel-ling, or ty-ing a shoe.
Every-one can do a thing or two.
Like paint-ing, or run-ning, or play-ing ka-zoo.
Some of us can whis-tle. Some of us can hum.
Some of us can play a flute or a drum.
Some of us play base-ball. Some of us fly kites.
Some of us can watch the stars through the night. Every-one has some-thing they can do.
Just look all a-round you, you'll see that it's true!
