Workshops on the Revised School Self-evaluation Tools for Continuous School Improvement

Summary

The Education Bureau (EDB) will organize a series of one-day identical workshops between April and June 2008 on the revised school self-evaluation (SSE) tools in support of continuous school improvement. Heads of schools are invited to nominate teachers to participate in the workshop.

Details

Background

2. Performance Indicators (PI) are a set of important tools in support of the implementation of the School Development and Accountability (SDA) framework. They are developmental in nature and need regular updating to align with education trends and the latest development in school education.

3. Since their publication, Performance Indicators for Hong Kong Schools 2002 and Performance Indicators for Hong Kong Schools 2002 – Evidence of Performance have been serving as a common platform for evaluation of school development by schools, teachers and the EDB. To benefit from implementation experiences, EDB has completed a review on the PI and Key Performance Measures (KPM) framework based on data contributed by schools' self-evaluation, external school reviews and views of frontline educators. The specific objective of the review is to refine and streamline the existing PI/KPM framework to support continuous school improvement through self-evaluation and to bring it in line with the developmental stage of school education and Curriculum Reform.

The Revised School Self-evaluation Tools

4. The revised PI/KPM framework for secondary, primary and special schools aims to enable schools to review school performance in a more focused manner and suitably alleviate schools' workload. Prior to the launch of the revised framework, a series of workshops on the revised PI and SSE tools has been scheduled, along with a briefing on embedding SSE as a natural process in the school development cycle. There will be purposefully designed practicum sessions to provide hands-on experience.

5. You are cordially invited to nominate 4 teachers of your school to attend one of the workshops. A schedule of the workshops is enclosed for ease of reference. For details, please refer to the EDB Training Calendar Course ID QAD020080012 (for secondary schools), QAD020080013 (for Special and DSS schools) and QAD020080014 (for primary schools).

Enquiry

6. For enquiries concerning the workshops, please contact Ms MAK Kwai-fong at 3540 6921 or Ms Kitty NG at 3540 6979.
