

TIPS FOR PARENTS OF NON-CHINESE SPEAKING STUDENTS

Primary

FUN WITH LEARNING CHINESE

LEARNING CHINESE IN THE SURROUNDINGS

Parent-child reading e.g. picture books, newspapers

Elder brothers or sisters as tutors

Watching TV programmes e.g. cartoon, drama, news

Reading information while shopping or visiting museums

Reading price tags or packaging, learning names of food in the market place to select what to buy

Reading bus routes and names of MTR stations to find out routes and directions

Reading the menu at a restaurant to order food

Reading signs to find out directions

Going to the library to look for more print or multi-media resources

2015 Education Bureau

Education services for non-Chinese speaking (NCS) students

<http://www.edb.gov.hk/ncs>

LEARNING CHINESE IN SCHOOL

During class time

Actively participate in learning activities

Card games

Read aloud

Demonstrations

Movements

e-learning

Reading & writing

Reporting

Answering

SPEND MORE TIME TO LEARN CHINESE

After school

Have more contact with Chinese peers and communicate in Chinese when having activities

Library activities

Cooking class

Birthday parties

Ball games

Picnics

Participate in extra lessons

After-school tutorials

Make use of the school surroundings to learn more

Reading signs, names of objects, etc.