

「現代中國歷史與國情」知識增益系列：
(5) 中華人民共和國的國際關係 (1949-2010)

Knowledge Enrichment Series on 'History and Development of Modern China':
(5) International Relations of the People's Republic of China (1949-2010)

- 日期 : 2010年五月十九日 (星期三)
Date : 19 May 2010 (Wednesday)
地點 : 香港歷史博物館演講廳
香港九龍尖沙咀漆咸道南100號
Venue : Lecture Theatre, Hong Kong Museum of History, 100 Chatham Road South,
Tsim Sha Tsui, Kowloon, Hong Kong.
時間 : 二時三十分至四時三十分 (下午)
Time : 2:30 – 4:30 (p.m.)

講者 : 香港浸會大學政治與國際關係學系丁偉教授

Speaker: Professor TING Wai, Department of Government & International Studies, Hong Kong Baptist University

*****

China and the World after 1949

Ting Wai

Department of Government & International Studies

Hong Kong Baptist University

This seminar aims to:

- Identify how China sees the world and the changes in world equilibrium
- Define China's proper role in the international community
- Analyse the relationship between China and the great powers and the developing countries.
- Comprehend issues relating to China's role in the world
- Understand the global political and economic implications of the rise of China

Outline:

1. Ideological foundation of Chinese Foreign Policies

- 1.1 The significance of Marxism-Leninism in understanding the diplomacy of China: socialism versus imperialism
- 1.2 Characteristics of Chinese diplomacy: Firm in principle and flexible in practice

- 1.3 Role of Nationalism and National Interests in Chinese foreign policies
- 2. Power foundation of Chinese Diplomacy
  - 2.1 The Geopolitics and Geostrategy of China
  - 2.2 Military Development: from People's War to High-Tech Warfare
  - 2.3 Nuclear Strategy and Nuclear Weapons Development of China
- 3. China and the Socialist Bloc
  - 3.1 The Korean War and its Aftermath
  - 3.2 Sino-Soviet Relations in the 1950s and implications for the domestic development of China
  - 3.3 Sino-Soviet Conflicts: Causes and Consequences
  - 3.4 Sino-Russian Relations in the Post-Cold War Period
- 4. China and the United States
  - 4.1 Sino-American Reconciliation in the 1970s: Strategic Rationale and the Balance of Power
  - 4.2 Cooperation and Competition of the two Countries during the Open and Reform Era of China
  - 4.3 Reunification of China: the Taiwan Issue and the Role of United States
- 5. China and Asia
  - 5.1 Japan's Role in Chinese Economic Development and Security Considerations
  - 5.2 Vicissitudes of Relationship between China and the two Koreas
  - 5.3 "Comrades Plus Brothers": Difficult Relations between China and Vietnam
- 7. China and the Third World
  - 7.1 Mao's Theory of the Three Worlds and World Revolution
  - 7.2 China's Aid Policies and Consequences
- 8. Chinese Foreign Policies in the 21st Century
  - 8.1 Chinese Perceptions of the New International Political Order
  - 8.2 National Sovereignty and Globalization: China and International Institutions
  - 8.3 Significance of Soft Power during the rise of China